

Instant traffic and weather is very useful when traveling accross the eastern seaboard. It enables me to plan my routes prior to arrival in one of the many served markets. Preventing XM from broadcasting such useful information would be a disservice to many.